Don't Play Around Railroad Tracks For a long time the officers of the C. W.

B. R. R. Co., have been greatly annoyed by thoughtless boys, jamping on locomotive and cars in the freight yards and classwhere at the risk of danger to themselves, and pos lamages.

The statutes of the State expressly declar that "any person who climbs, jumps, steps or stands upon or clings or in any way ator stands upon or clings or in any way attaches himself to any locomotive, engine or car, upon any part of the track of a railroad, unless lawfully, or by permission of the railroad officers, shall be fined therefor not more than twenty-five dollars."

The railroad company, having exhausted all efforts, other than legsl proceedings to stop this dangerous practice, without success, determined to try what virtue there might be in the law.

A beginning was made at Blanchester and several boys were arrested and fined, and several boys were arrested and fined, and others are liable to be arrested at any time. The same course will be pursued at Cincincinnati, Chillicothe, Greenfield, Hamden, Athens, and all other stations on the C. W. & B., unless the boys heed the warning and stop violating the laws of the State.

Anti-Music Society Spreading. Dr. H. S. Fullerton, of this place, has been admitted to the Cincinnati Society for the Suppression of Music, and has obtained the privilege of starting a branch organization n Hillsboro. Among the credentials fur-nished to the society with his application for entrance was the following letter which opening sentences refer to his recent trip on the lakes:

The plane fiend was on board of each of our three boats—The India, Chins, and Japan, of the Lake Superior Transit Co.'s line. How often, just as I was climbing a brilliant argument, or in the cestatic moment when I had reached the point to one of my beat incandescent jokes, have I been chilled with an uplifted finger and the hissing words, "Hush! Miss Keebanger is going to play," or, "Wait! Mr. Cheexracket is going to play," or, "Wait! Mr. Cheexracket is going to play," or, "Wait! Mr. Cheexracket is going to aing," and I must subside and fold my hands and grit my teeth while they drum and squall and grow! down low or soar up into the high gargies, and all the time my argument dying, dying, dying, or my joke slowly perishing from suphyxia; and when they finally get through and are at last done everybody says, "Exquisite!" "lovely!" "so sweet!" and never know that my intellectual effort lies

Some day, coaded to desperation by her, I too may ex-place and involve her and myself and the plane and the vocalist and my favorite joke all in one red rain—

"Then shall no care its shadow o'er me fling." For she is quiet and her feller can not sing." The Society admitted the Doctor to mem-bership by a unanimous vote and consid-ered his credentials so excellent as to confer upon him the degree of "S. O. A." The time for holding the Greenfield Alumnists the second Thursday in August. Extensive preparations are being made to make it an interesting occasion.

and slapped him all over in a minute.

The Democratic Congressional and Judicial District Committees of this district, met here last Wednesday to select a place to hold the Democratic Congressional Convention. Chillicothe was chosen as the place, and the 11th of August the date. But please keep an eye on the Hillsboro Gazetie's report of the proceedings here last Wednesday, and note particularly if it reports the room where they met to decide on a place for their convention. As far as we were capable of seeing they met in a certain business room on East Main street. They were all seen to go in there and remain about one hour, then came out, and in a few minutes it was noised about the streets that Chillicothe had been chosen as the place, and the 11th of August the date. Now the above may not be true, but if it is not, it looked that may not be true, but if it is not, it looked that way to a man up a tree, and we have not heard of any other place where they held a meeting. But maybe the Gazette will make all things plain.

The following condensed report of the M. E. Sabbath School for the last quarter was handed us by the secretary, Mr. C. E. Strong-Number of pupils, 102; awarage attendance, 60; expenses, $3.10; amount of collection, $5.10. The school is on a firm financial basis and is doing as well as could be expected at this season of the year.

Last Wednesday being the eighteenth anniversary of the birth of Miss Lucy Vance, about fifty of her young friends exembled at the Vance mansion, near Allensburg, to express congratulations, hopes for future successes and to celebrate the young lady's entrance into society. A bountful repeat of tempting viands was spread and devoured, after which the program of the evening consisted of literary and physical exercises. This, on the whole, was the crowning event of the season and will, no doubt, long be remembered by Miss Lucy as the beginning of a new era in her history.
